

My Consultancy

Several money-hungry
Money-mad men
Meet me with humility
Most frequently , time and again.
They come all the way
To add value to their plan.
They look for novel money-making methods
Which are profoundly their only needs of prime.

They pay me for my time
In fees and remunerations that I ask
With eagerness and joy
With ease and coy to accomplish their chosen task.
They visit me solely for their gain,
Most often again and again,
In all my times
Of sun and rain.

My chosen advises and reports
They procure, practice and make
Most often much surpluses
And visit me next time with gifts, sweets and cakes.
Surprising though,
I am yet so deprived in cash and kind
I could not gift to my fate
A worldly peace of mind!
