

Our R&D Unit at Kadi

Kadi from Ahmedabad is far away, hot and skew
The place so dun gent won't attract all the new.
Talents for R&D are within a few!
Group Leaders, work cultures would only they view.

Such persons won't solely run for name and fame.
The thrusts would all be for finding the questing gem.
In jobs, they won't cheat or play any tricky game.
Curiosity alone would power to motivate them!

A biotech nest was built with NEVA the egg.
And around me, the buds grew to peg
The roots that blossomed to spread
Good cultures of togetherness, which was for them a shed.

September twelve of two thousand two
Was the 'D'-day: the team précised NEVA, was ready for more to do!
Confidence thereafter insisted to pursue
Setting up a biotech R&D Unit at Kadi anew!

Team leaders, team cultures and a right mix of the team
Hold the ingredients of success that may lit up to beam
The team has to be lucky, practical and market-oriented too
All these got integrated luckily for a while in our team and prompted me to pursue!

Kadi's R&D Unit when fully built would grow with name
As the investigators would all dedicate to bring out the best in them.
For innovative research in life sciences that would be appropriate and fair
To enable the team to serve the mankind with kindness and care!
