

Poetry

For professionals and businesslike minds
Of diverse kinds like ours
Often we do not come to recognize
When poetry or verse comes to us.
Silently though she steps in close
Through our quiet or busy but distinctly lonely times;
Poetry dresses herself soft and attractive,
Every time she is close to us
Suiting our tastes and molding us softer
At our diversely different transacting moods!

Poetry arrives to awaken us,
To magnify our expressions of thought;
Poetry is much closer to our mind
And surely to our heart;
But at times we do not wish to accept
Or to recognize the emotions!
We, the professionals with businesslike mindset
Are often more close to our brain,
Although we recognize the strengths
That bind and unite through the feelings of heart!

We lament when we fail,
Regretting why we didn't use our thoughts
Expressed more
In the words of emotional knots
Through her sweet
And meaningful verse,
Even though that would mean
A bit worse;
Some defeat in the pride
Of our intellectual logistic thoughts.

Poetry is a companion,
A creative entity of every one of us;
Poetry is the expression of maturity
Of our thoughts;
Poetry empowers us,
Poetry provides us with strength
And for those
Who spend time with her more
They appear emotional
Ripened and expressive from the core!

Poetry leaves for them,
Who are closer to her
More of her finer humane
And imaginative qualities of creations
In all their expressions,
Demonstrations and acts,
In the diversities of life,
In all the determining events
Through the manifestation of maturities
And through the detailing of thoughts.
